

Cast for TV Production Selected by Director Ulrici

Casting was almost completed Monday evening for the Hartnell college-community playhouse one-hour television drama, "The Case of Humanity vs. Pontius Pilate," which will be presented "live" over KSBW-TV, Channel 8, on Dec. 22.

The play is a courtroom trial of Pilate for his crimes against Christianity. Pilate had ordered the crucifixion of Christ. The setting of the play is a modern courtroom. Costume is of modern dress.

Cast and parts are: Norman Edwards as the bailiff; Sarah Phillips, court reporter; Richard Brown, "Pontius Pilate"; Mrs. Carol Wood, "Claudia Procula"; Max Gobel, defense attorney; George Whitney, the judge; Elizabeth Everton of Watsonville, "Esther"; Robert Yost of San Ardo, "Nicodemus"; Ophelia Nave as "Mary Magdalene"; Lloyd Abel, "Caiaphas"; Bob Smith of Watsonville, reporter; Ruth Eldred as "Solomeo"; the Rev. W. C. Jones as "Joseph of Arinothea."

Smith is stage manager, Miss Phillips is chairman of makeup and prompting, and Miss Everton is property manager.

"Although the time of the play is the present, the testimony of the witnesses is based upon their sentiments shortly after Christ's crucifixion," stated Mr. Harold Ulrici, Hartnell's drama director.

Volunteers Begin Constructing Float

Plans for a Hartnell college float to lead Panther rooters to Monterey Peninsula college for the Thanksgiving day tussle with the Lobos were announced this week by Alex Zermeno, Hartnell student body president.

Plans To Expand Campus Include New Library and Ten Faculty Offices

Plans to expand the Hartnell campus to suit an enrollment of 2,000 students were discussed with the faculty last week by Dr. J. F. Ching, college superintendent and president.

The initial phase of the building program will be a library which is to be constructed between the ends of the existing north and south wings of the college. The new structure, for which plans are nearly complete, will include ten faculty offices.

Other new facilities which are needed include a physical science laboratory, additional music and fine arts facilities, remodeling of the men's gymnasium for use as both auditorium and gymnasium, enlarging of the women's gymnasium, additional classrooms, administrative quarters, a swimming pool and a health unit. It has not been decided whether to build a new stadium or to make improvements on existing stadia.

Santa Cruz Picked As Winter Ball Site

The Riverside inn in Santa Cruz was chosen Tuesday as the place to hold the Winter ball. The dance will be held Dec. 21 from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.

Bids for the dance will cost $6. At the next meeting of the social activities committee the band, theme and decorations will be chosen.

Political Groups Being Organized

The Young Republicans' and Young Democrats' clubs are in the process of becoming active organizations at Hartnell.

Although the clubs are still organizing, they both have the support of the local Republican and Democratic clubs.

Dr. B. L. Borough and Mr. Lorenz Newton will be advisors of the Young Democrats' club, and Dr. Duane Sandgren will be the advisor of the Young Republicans' club. According to Alex Zermeno, all faculty members are invited to attend meetings and take active parts in the clubs.

The clubs will meet separately on Thursdays, but on certain occasions will meet together and debate issues. The clubs plan to have a well-known speaker from each party speak at an assembly.

Spirit Discussed By Sophomores

Claude Ponting, sophomore president, discussed the encouragement of school spirit for the forthcoming Thanksgiving day classic with Monterey Peninsula college at the recent sophomore class assembly. Floats are planned for a parade before the kickoff at noon. A dance before the contest was also discussed.

Other subjects on the agenda included the discussion of a class gift and a magazine in place of the defunct yearbook.

On the same day, Ramar Beauchamp was elected vice-president of the freshman class. Discussion included plans for the Winter ball, prom, standard prices on record dances, and the yearbook.

Rally Boosts Spirit

The rally prior to the Hartnell-San Jose game demonstrates what planning and preparation will do. The spirit which was born at the rally lasted over into the game Saturday night and helped our team defeat the only unbeaten team in northern California.

A big vote of thanks is due the people responsible for the planning of this rally and also to the people who participated in it.

The rally highlighted Mr. Henry Cassady, one-time yell leader at Cal, leading the rooting section in a few yells. Introduced at the rally were the "San Jose homecoming queen and her attendants," better known as Jim Zachary, Ron Leonti and Al Machado.

A yelling competition between the two sections of the audience increased the spirit at the rally.

The team may not have won just because we had a good rally, but it increased their desire to win considerably. — N. S.

Buck Up!
Life's O.K.

By DEMETRIA DA-ATON

You say the hardest thing to do these days is to get up early? Oh, because the chill and the bed convince to make you stay?

It's really nice of the instructors at 8 a.m. classes not to get fed up with "I woke up late because of the br-r-r-r-r!" It's good they don't go gr-r-r-r-r!

Wait a minute! Everyone on the campus who simply loves candies and chocolates, seems to be complaining of the same thing. It concerns the candy machines, and I hope you know what they mean. So, how about fixing them before losing your customers?

To the wallflowers: Why not dance? There is something in dancing and you're missing much if you don't know how to dance. If you are a pessimist, then dance, and you will see the world wearing a new face and all your worries about the sputnik will vanish into thin air.

But take my advice, will you, gents? Never try to be a fresh guy by imagining yourself a Valentino; instead be a gentle Don Juan with beaming eyes, and you'll see that life's O.K.

You say you got yourself betting with friends that Hartnell will win over M.P.C.? Tsk! Tsk! There you are, Panther gridders, how about winning this time for everybody's sake? Remember, everyone will be cheering for you!

Sentence of the Week:

Teacher: "Use 'analyze' and 'anatomy' in a sentence."

Student: "My Ana lies over the ocean; oh, bring back my Ana to me."

Cassady Sparks Rally;
"Mr.U" Will Try Today

By LYNNE GARCIA

Are all of you football-hungry cheerers and athletic supporters going to the rally this morning? You know, our rallies are getting better all the time. In fact, at the last one everyone yelled with the cheerleaders rather than just watching. Of course, the guest cheer leader, Mr. Henry "Hopalong" Cassady had much to do with the yelling. Mr. Cassady proved to many people that school spirit is a lot of fun.

Even the football players were yelling and clapping their hands in time to the music. Oh, sure, there were a few who were still rather dubious about this new thing, school spirit. Those were the ones who wouldn't move their lips while yelling until they looked around and saw that everyone else was yelling too. I even noticed a certain sir who put his hands down where no one could see and clapped with the music.

School spirit is fun. This is a fact proved at last week's rally. This morning at nine there will be another rally in support of tonight's game against Hancock. Classes will be excused and a skit will be presented by some Hartnell women.

Pompon girls and yell leaders will be present along with Mr. Robert Lee's band. Mr. Hal Ulrici will be guest yell leader, so some rather "dramatic yells" may be presented.

Those remembering last week's skit with some of the "Hartnell women," "Sal" Machado, "Veronica" Leonti, "Tammy" Zachary and a couple of others will undoubtedly not want to miss this morning's skit.

The Keg Is Found!

The keg, which is the traditional victory symbol exchanged after each Hartnell-MPC game, will be returned to the Lobos, temporarily, at halftime.

In order for Hartnell to receive it just desserts after winning the game Thursday, the keg must be returned.

Concerning victory symbols, Alex Zermeno, student body president, has agreed with the MPC student body president that the losing college student body president will give up his shirt to the winning student body president. When Zermeno gets his new shirt and Hartnell gets its keg, Hartnell students can begin to celebrate Thanksgiving.

Executives Deserve Reputation As Most Industrious Faculty Members

By LYNNE GARCIA

The busiest members of the Hartnell junior college campuses are the executive members. Perhaps the most important of these people is Dr. J. Frederic Ching, president and superintendent of Hartnell joint junior college district. Dr. Ching was graduated from the University of California with a bachelor of science degree from the college of commerce.

After working for a year and a half for the Standard Oil company, Dr. Ching returned to the university and received his master of arts degree and credentials in teaching and administration. He taught sixth grade and became principal of an elementary school in Vallejo.

As president of Hartnell, Dr. Ching was the president and superintendent of the district and administrator of the Hartnell joint junior college district, and the elementary and high school districts. He carries a responsibility to the board of trustees, financing the district, directing the building program, and directing the instructional program of the college.

Daughter Is Alumna

Living ten years in Salinas, Dr. Ching is married and has three children. His daughter, Barbara, is a former student of Hartnell. Dr. Ching has four grandchildren.

Mr. Stuart Dufour, vice-president of Hartnell, was at one time a Hartnell journalism instructor and executive aide to Dr. Ching, who was then superintendent of schools. He was graduated from San Mateo junior college with the associate in arts degree and received his bachelor of arts from Stanford in 1934.

Mr. Dufour was on the editorial staff of the San Jose Mercury-Herald from 1934 until 1939. In 1941, he received his master's degree from Stanford. He taught social sciences and journalism at Salinas Union high school and then journalism at Hartnell.

Succeeded Mr. Lemos

With the death of Mr. John B. Lemos in 1954, Mr. Dufour was appointed president pro tem of the college. He was appointed president on Dec. 28, 1954. He took over the vice-presidency this year after a change in the administrative setup. Mr. Dufour is in charge of the campus and seeing that the classes, schedules, desks, teachers and equipment are here.

Mr. Dufour was born in Chicago. He is married and has two children. Darien, his daughter, is 19 and attends Stanford university. Stuart is 15 and attends Salinas Union high school.

Mr. Clifford Swanson is Hartnell's dean of admissions. His main duties are coordination of transfer programs with four-year colleges, admission and suspension of students, advisor to veterans who apply for benefits under GI training, foreign student's advisor in getting the necessary papers for student visas and for their certification to the immigration office, athletic eligibility, and registrar.

Mr. Swanson was born in Wisconsin and has lived in Salinas for ten years. He received his master's degree from the University of Minnesota and attended the University of California and Stanford. He is married and has two children. Gwen is 17 and a senior at Salinas Union high school. John is 15 and a sophomore.

Graduated From Gonzales

Miss June Handley, dean of women, is a graduate of Gonzales high school. She received her bachelor of arts and a special secondary credential in physical education from San Jose State college. She did graduate work in summer sessions at the University of California, and received her master of arts degree in psychology and guidance from Colorado State college.

Miss Handley's first job after graduating from college was that of the director of restricted activities at the Weimer Joint sanitarium in the high Sierra. She was in charge of 90 youngsters who were either on the verge of having tuberculosis or had had it. There was no active cases and Miss Handley dubbed it as very interesting work.

She taught at Lincoln elementary school in Salinas and started at Hartnell in 1941. Miss Handley has lived in Salinas for 16 years and was appointed dean of women in 1944. In 1955 she took a year's leave.

Obtained Degree at Stanford

The dean of student personnel, Dr. Lionel Olson, has been at Hartnell for two years. He finished his doctor's degree at Stanford and taught undergraduate courses there. Dr. Olson served on the staffs of county superintendent of schools in various capacities, including Secondary Coordination and was a consultant in Child Welfare. He experienced teaching and counseling at high school and junior college levels. He also received his bachelor of arts degree at the College of the Pacific and his master's degree at Stanford.

Dr. Olson is single and has lived in Salinas for two years. His duties at Hartnell consist of the student personnel program which includes individual student problems such as scholarship advisement, job placement and counseling, student housing, student loans, student government, and social activities.

Briefly, Dr. Olson's main duties are educational, vocational, personnel and social counseling and guidance, providing standardized testing, coordinating health information, coordinating with the Dean of Admissions in maintaining student records, followup program, student commission advisor, and student disciplinary problems.

Late President's Efforts Secure Student Union

The idea for the Hartnell college student union was thought of many years ago but recently Hartnell's late president, Mr. John B. Lemos, put in his effort and time to see the union actually built.

Finally opened Nov. 14, 1955, the union was named in the honor of the late President Lemos, and the alumni raised $500 to have a portrait of Mr. Lemos painted by Leslie Emery of Carmel. A plaque to the college vice-president, Mr. Stuart Dufour, was also presented.

In order to build the lounge, $106,000 was raised through the student book store and other student ventures. When completed, $5,000 worth of furniture was still expected for the main lounge and the woman's lounge. This delayed opening of the union for a short time.

The lounge is now the most popular spot on the Hartnell campus. Students, instructors and visitors are constant occupants and enter the lounge to study, rest or to play checkers or chess.

The cafeteria offers full meals for 50 cents and several other combinations of foods and snacks. A jukebox is a constant companion in the cafeteria, while the main lounge plays soft mood music on its "hi-fi" speakers.

Roy Bayford Chosen "Bandsman of Week"

Roy Bayford has been chosen as "Bandsman of the Week. Bayford, who comes from London, England, has played for four years. He played for a London band for a period of two years, and he has played for Hartnell for two years. Bayford, who is a journalism major, served in the army in Europe for two years. He has also worked with the United Nations Education in World Citizenship league.

Registration Schedule Announced by Dean

Registration dates for the spring semester have been announced by Mr. Clifford Swanson, dean of admission.

Students who are now enrolled at Hartnell are to sign up in the main office Nov. 25, 26 and 27 for appointment with their counselors during the registration periods from Dec. 2 through Dec. 20, and from Jan. 6 through Jan. 17.

Harold Jackson Builds Own Boat At A&M

By MIKE ALIOTO

Harold Jackson, a third-year carpentry student at Hartnell A&M, is undertaking the building of his own boat. Jackson has recent begun cutting and fitting the keel for a 16-foot racing ski-boat.

This type model, featuring a 1948, three-quarter race Mercury inboard engine, will cost Jackson about $900. He is not an inexperienced boat builder, having worked on three other boats, including the model sported by Mr. Lyman Fowler, director. Jackson looks to Mr. Art Carlsen, shop instructor, for supervision and help on technical points.

The boat will be of mahogany with complete fiberglass covering. The estimated time to build the two-seater is about four months.

Custodians Take Lost Items to Main Office

A new building may have to be constructed and added to the main office if students don't come to claim the articles that are now in the "Lost and Found" department.

Articles found in class rooms and gyms are brought to the main office by custodians. Everything from soup to nuts may be found there. Students are urged to check the lost and found department for articles they may have lost.

Vets Elect Officers Of New Organization

The Veteran's club, Hartnell's newest club, has elected officers and they were installed by Dr. L. L. Bjarnason, club advisor.

Officers of the club are: Jim Huffman, president; Lloyd Abel, vice-president; Robert Mills, treasurer; Raymond Zaragoza, secretary.

Student, Professor Discuss Indonesia

■ Stewart Liem, Hartnell student from Indonesia, points to his country during discussion with Dr. B. L. Borough, Hartnell political science instructor. (Monighetti photo)

Student From Far-Off Indonesia Studies Banking; Likes Hartnell

By SANDRA LIM

Representing Indonesia in the foreign student population at Hartnell college is Stewart Liem. Stewart has traveled from Jakarta, the capital of his country and his hometown, to Salinas, where he will assume the role of a college student for the next two years.

From a partially developed country to a highly progressive nation, Stewart has come with the desire to bring back to his homeland the American practices which will benefit the Indonesian people. A business administration major at Hartnell, Stewart is primarily interested in the banking system.

"I am indeed grateful and honored to have the opportunity to come to America to study," comments the Indonesian visitor. Stewart experienced a form of higher education while attending the State University of Indonesia last year as a law student. After graduation from Hartnell, he plans to enroll at the University of California.

Teachers Helpful

With only a few weeks of college life at Hartnell, Stewart is already impressed with the administration and student body. Speaking about the instructors he says, "The teachers are all so nice and willing to help the students." He thinks highly of the student-teacher relationship at the college.

At the State University of Indonesia, the professors do not even have the opportunity to acquaint themselves with the students. In an average crowded classroom of hundreds of students, the students are merely considered as a mass of human beings desiring an education. The Indonesians who attend college find consultations with the professors most difficult.

Amazed at the lax attitudes of many American students toward learning, Stewart finds the situation difficult to believe. He is from a land where only the select are able to receive college or university training. In Indonesia the college intellect looks upon classwork with a serious, reverent attitude. The contrast between American and Indonesian students may be attributed to the idea that Indonesians feel deeply honored and privileged at being able to receive an education.

Fascinated by Freeways

With the assistance of a wholesome college life, Stewart finds living in America most agreeable. He still looks with gleaming eyes at the many marvels of man in this country. Stewart is fascinated with the fabulous freeway systems in this land. He comments on how well traffic is regulated. "Motor vehicles travel so smoothly on the well-paved streets and highways," he said. In Jakarta, capital of Indonesia, an average of ten automobile accidents is recorded daily.

Stewart manages to find time for pleasure when he is not absorbed in schoolwork. "All work and no play" does not apply to the American student, nor should it be connected with our Indonesian friend.

He devotes the time allotted to pleasure to photography, his hobby. Stewart claims he just "fusses around with the camera," but he hopes to enlarge upon his skills by learning more about the art. In Indonesia Stewart worked in film laboratories as a translator, changing English dialogue into the Indonesian language.

In his letters home to his family and friends, he tells about the many wonderful things which make the United States a leading nation. He writes his father, a cotton buyer and seller, about the American economic system. He informs his mother and five-year-old sister of the modern shopping centers. But in each letter he expresses his gratitude at being able to obtain an education which will enable him to serve his country and his fellow men better.

ASB Constitution Provides for Student Court

Article V, Section 1, of the Associated Students constitution established a student court known as the Supreme court. It consists of one chief justice and four associate justices. It was set up to handle more severe types of disciplinary infractions, according to Dr. Lionel Olsen, dean of student personnel.

According to the constitution, the chief justice is the vice-president of the Associated Students. His associates are appointed by the Associated Students' president, subject to the approval of the commission and the faculty advisor of the court. They are appointed for a term of one year.

If a trial is necessary, the court usually meets in session "at the call of the chief justice, the commission, the college president, or constitution states.

Through power vested in the court by the constitution, the court can recommend to the college president the expulsion, suspension, or probation of any student who has acted in such a way as to bring discredit to the organization or the college. Two-time offenders are recommended for expulsion without probation.

Rudy Garcia was 7th (18:12), John Bonino 13th (18:38), A. Ramirez 25th (20:52), and Robert Stolich 26th (21:29), among Panther runners.

The meet concluded the fall cross-country season.

Student-Faculty Panel Being Formed Here

A Hartnell college student-faculty committee is in the process of being formed. The committee will consist of students and faculty members who will attempt to iron out student and faculty problems. One of the problems to be worked out is that of activity time for clubs and perhaps, rallies. The committee will strive for a better relation of the two groups.

Potential members of the committee are Miss June Handley, Dr. Lionel Olsen, Mr. William Kunhart, Mr. Henry Cassady, Mr. Daniel Coulter, Mr. Craig Townsend and Mr. Stuart Dufour; Alex Zermeno, Kay Bourgerie, Sandy Epperson, Virgil Hoadley, Jack Sandy and Diane Collier.

College Play Gains Praise

"I was well satisfied with the smoothness and polish with which the play operated. It was a cast effort," was the answer Mr. Harold Ulrici, director of the college-community playhouse, gave when asked about his impression of "The Merchant of Venice" production presented Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights.

Approximately 500 people attended the play, including 12 actors and technicians for the San Francisco City college drama group. The director and his group felt that the play was an excellent one and were surprised by the outstanding drama found in the Salinas area.

The group was awed by the set, feeling that it was particularly outstanding in lieu of the small space in which it was constructed.

Mr. Ulrici also felt the musical interludes furnished by Mr. Lorell McCann's ensemble were a contributing factor to the success of the play.

EXPANSION . . .

some of the improvements, Dr. Ching said.

The college also may build dormitories, including one for 12 or 15 students at Hartnell A. and M. The superintendent said the first dormitory may be for 35 or 40 students and would be located on the main campus.

He pointed out that the dormitories could be paid for with money received by the district from districts which do not have junior colleges, but which send students to Hartnell. Under this plan, Hartnell district taxpayers whose children live at home would not pay for the dormitories for students from outside the district.

Dr. Ching expressed the belief that a University of California branch or a state college in this area would not be detrimental to the junior colleges. In fact, he said such an institution would probably stimulate growth of the two-year colleges.

Vallejo Wins Title

Vallejo upset San Jose, 25-13, last weekend to win the Coast Conference championship. Idle Hartnell is currently tied with Monterey for third place. The winner of the Thanksgiving day classic will finish in a 3-way tie for second place with San Jose and East Contra Costa.

Commission Okays MPC Tilt Plans, Approves New Head for "Tabby"

The last two student commission meetings have included reports from commissioners and delegates who attended the student government conference at San Francisco City college.

The head yell leader, Erica Rossi, discussed the MPC game plans that were made at a luncheon she attended in Monterey. It was pointed out by Miss Rossi that all Hartnell students must wear a white shirt and a "dink" in order to be admitted to the Hartnell rooting section.

Resolutions passed at the CCSF conference were that each northern California junior college exchange student newspapers; that a recommendation be made to the next regional conference concerning the establishment of a standard price to visiting student bodies for after-game activities; and that all colleges adopt a policy to bill the visiting school for damage done to the home campus.

A letter was received from CCSF giving ASB President Alex Zermeno and Vice-president Jack Dun-stant honorary student body cards.

It was moved by the commission, since "Tabby's" head is about to fall apart, that the head be taken to Mr. Joseph Bragdon's crafts class to be reconstructed.

Netto's Volleyballers Leading Campus Loop

Phil Netto and company continue to occupy stellar position over the other six teams in the intramural volleyball league with an 8-2-1 record for 17 points.

The teams captained by Don Kuckenkaker, Donna Ponting and Ted Stacey share a three-way tie in second spot with 15 points each.

The teams captained by Loretta Phelps, Joe Jellison and Roger King are in third, fourth and last places with 5, 4 and 2 points, respectively.

Panther Gridders Face Monterey In Thanksgiving Day Classic

By WAYNE UMBERTIS

The streaking Hartnell Panther gridgers travel to Monterey Peninsula college Thanksgiving day to battle the rival Lobos. The Panthers will be out to avenge last year's defeat in the "Little Keg" affair.

In this traditional rivalry, where previous performances are thrown out the window, a vastly improved Hartnell football team will be entertained by the MPC Lobos during their homecoming proceedings starting at noon.

Although owners of an unimpressive 3-5 record, the Lobos are ranked number ten in Northern California J.C. circles. Their rating is based on their fine defensive play against some of the better J.C. teams. Paced by a sharpshooting quarterback, Jim Brown, the running of Tony Aflague, and the line play of Willie Redmond, they gave conference champion Vallejo a great game before being subdued 9 to 7. Vallejo beat the Panthers by a score of 26-13.

Panthers Improving

The Panthers have been rising steadily however, and two weeks ago they knocked the steam out of San Jose's unbeaten, untied Jaguars 20 to 14. Monterey was defeated by this same contingent early in the season to the tune of 19-6.

The two other common opponents were Menlo and East Contra Costa. Both Monterey and Hartnell took the measure of Menlo but the Panthers were far more impressive as they slaughtered the Oaks 40 to 14, while Monterey had to rally in the last half to win 20-15. Little is left in the way of comparison as far as ECC is concerned because both teams were beaten; Hartnell lost 13 to 7 while MPC was edged 7 to 6.

The Thanksgiving day clash will offer the wooden keg as a prize to the victor. This will be the eighth meeting between the two teams, with the Panthers holding a five to two edge in the series. The Lobos took the keg for the first time in six years last year and are bent on retaining the trophy; however, on the strength of their current win string the Harts must rule as a slight favorite.

Lineups Listed

Coach Bill Abbey lists his probable starters as: ends, Stewart Pillette and Jim Gillies; tackles, Jim O'Marr and Buzz Smith; guards, Redmond and Badorek, with Al Lankes at center. Dick Sloan will open at fullback, and will be flanked by halfbacks Aflague and Dave Pepple, with Brown at quarterback.

Coach Ken Blue will start Julian Aguilar and Ken Blanton at ends, Jim Mastin and Al Machado at tackles, Dick Rohrke and John Plake at guards, and Bill Elliot at center. Opening in the Hartnell backfield will be halfbacks, Hal Turner and Bob Cabanyog. Fullback Jim Stireman and Quarterback Wayne Handley.

Blanton Chosen

Ken Blanton, Watsonville guard-end, will captain the Hartnell Panthers in their final home game against Hancock tonight. Coach Ken Blue said captains for the Monterey game will be chosen by their teammates Monday.

Panthers Face Hancock In Final Home Encounter

By MIKE ALIOTO

The Hartnell Panthers will face the Hancock Bulldogs in the last home game of the season tonight at the Salinas Union high school field. The Bulldogs from Santa Maria resumed football last year and have won three games. However, for disciplinary reasons, Hancock may not start a first string eleven. Bulldog Coach "Dutch" Meyers will bring between 20 and 24 uniformed players to Salinas.

A Hancock player of gridiron acclaim is Don Villars, All-American honorable mention junior college end. Halfbacks Bob Claborn, Mike Braccio and Nate Harris are speedsters of the open field variety, usually running the ends.

A note of interest here is that the Hartnell fullback, Jim Stireman, will be playing against two former high school team mates, Rod Ford and Gary Frink. Coach Meyers was Stireman's high school coach.

Coach Ken Blue has expressed concern about his charges looking beyond the Bulldog game to the classic with Monterey on Thanksgiving day. "Another danger," Coach Blue said, "is that the Panthers, after their upset over the San Jose Jaguars, are riding 'too high.'" Wednesday's scrimmage was expected to put the gridgers on their guard.

Probable starting lineup named by Coach Blue will be Aguilar and Blanton at ends; Machado, Anderson or Mastin at tackles; Plake, Rhorke or Harris at guards, and Elliot, center. In the backfield will be Handley, quarterback; Stireman, fullback; Turner, Cabanyog or Hardy at the halves.

Panthers Upset Jaguar Gridgers

Hartnell stunned San Jose 20-14 in a major upset in northern California jaycee circles Nov. 9 in a Coast conference contest. The Jags were regarded as North State's best. The win knocked the Jags out of the contention for the Junior Rose Bowl bid.

The Jaguars, 20 pounds heavier than the Harts, jumped to a quick 7-0 lead. The Panthers, using only 16 players, retaliated with an explosive scoring combination in Wayne Handley, Jim Stireman and Bob Cabanyog, each of whom scored.

Tennis Practice Now Under Way

Tennis Coach G. Darwin Peavy has formed a tennis ladder with an open challenge setup to determine ranking of players. There are no lettermen back this year, Coach Peavy said.

Any interested aspirants may see Mr. Peavy. Players on the tennis ladder at the present time are

Hartnell Cagers Prep for First Tilt of Season

Coach Ed Adams is unable to choose a starting lineup for his opening game at Porterville Dec. 5 because of injuries to key players and because of the capability of the individual squad members.

Ankle injuries have kept Bill Loveless, regular center last season, and Phil Netto, Santa Cruz freshman, on the sidelines, while Roger King, Eugene, Ore., star has been unable to practice because of a knee injury. Frank Padilla, Hollister veteran, underwent an appendectomy last week. All of the players are potential starters and should be available for the opener.

Another certain starter is Jim Mastin, former freshman performer at San Francisco university, who will join the squad at the close of the football season. Hal Turner and Dick Hardy are other basketball players who may help the Panther quintet.

After the opener Hartnell will take part in a tournament at Reedley Dec. 6 and 7. The Panthers meet Reedley on the opening night, and will play either Stockton or East Contra Costa the next evening. Hartnell split with both Reedley and ECC last season.

Thomas Gomez, Jerry Muncy, Bill Meyenberg, Gerald Thompson, Bill Jacoby, Larry Smith, Stewart Leim, Ralph Winter and Ramar Beauchamp.
